Cleo Smith To Succeed Glen Bishop

Cleo Smith was named general manager of the Dons Dinette to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Glen Bishop at the last college executive board meeting.

Unable to devote the time that he thought should be spent on the student venture, Bishop tendered his resignation last Friday and Smith was appointed. The new manager took over his duties Monday of this week.

Smith will attempt to improve the service at the Dinette, as this was named as the chief fault of the store in the recent survey conducted by Miss Dorothy Decker's advertising class. He will be required to give a weekly report of the financial situation of the Dinette to the board.

FORENSIC TEAM WINS AT MEET

Claude Owens, Robert Tannenbaum and Harold Woodard, Santa Ana jaycee's forensic team returned this week with three wins and three losses for the first two and a second and fifth place for the latter. They were representatives to the annual Invitational Debate and Oratorical tournament of the College of the Pacific.

Owens and Tannenbaum won their debates with teams from Modesto junior college, Branch Utah Aggies, and Arizona State. They lost to the College of the Pacific, Weber college of Utah, and Glendale junior college. Long Beach won the debating tournament in the junior college division.

First The Blade Poetry Being Prepared For Judges

Having received a total of 600 contributed poems, the editors of First The Blade are arranging them preparatory to submitting them to the judges.

These poems represent 34 colleges and junior colleges of California. In addition to five prizes for the best poems of the specified themes, a prize of $5 is being offered by the Orange County Historical society for the best poem on a California historical subject.

Barbara Charles Compares Parachute Jumping

By Walt Bandick

How would you like to be out on the wing of a speeding airplane, unable to get back in the cockpit and unable to jump off?

This was the predicament that Barbara Charles, local jaycee parachute jumper, found herself in Sunday. In getting out of a small cockpit onto the wing to make her usual jump, Miss Charles twisted her chute so that she was unable to reach the rip cord. For this reason she was unable to jump and it was impossible to climb back into the tiny cockpit.

The result was that Barbara grimly hung to the wing for 45 long minutes till the plane was able to land.

First Time to Land Although she has been up at least a dozen times, this is the first time that Miss Charles ever landed in an airplane. Each time previous she had leaped from the plane with a parachute and made rather independent landings. This was also the case the first time that she ever was up in a plane!

Sophomore Pictures To Be Taken Beginning March 11

"Sophomore pictures will be taken at the Rabe studio starting Monday, March 11, announced Charles Downie, co-editor of Del Ano. He also stated that it is compulsory and a fee of $1.00 must be paid at the business office before an appointment is made.

To date, there have been 142 sophomores recorded for graduation in June.

Dave Sheppard Is Named Del Ano Business Manager

That Dave Sheppard, layout editor of Del Ano, was appointed business manager of the college annual, was revealed today by George B. Holmes, adviser of the book. Sheppard will succeed Wayne Wilhite who resigned because of his work as Associated Student treasurer.

Elizabeth Woods, art editor, heads the art staff which includes Medora Smith, Dorothy Pettitt, and Helen Logue. They are working on illustrations that are known as montage drawings. This is an entirely new method for Del Ano and is very different than the previous techniques used, according to Miss Frances W. Egge, art adviser. "The illustrations are semi-comic and promise to be more entertaining than any of the former yearbook illustrations," she said.

Miss Egge also stated that some pen and ink illustrations for the sectional pages may be made by Armand Hanson.

The art work is nearing completion and will soon be sent to Los Angeles to be lithographed with the rest of the yearbook.

Tavern Posts Are Issued Monday

Tavern Posts are being issued Monday from the student office. Copies are free to Associated students and 15 cents for all others.

A one-act play by Arthur Casey entitled "The Other Man" is one of the featured attractions of the book. An essay on "Gist of the Poet's Mill" by Edgar Ewing will be of special interest to all interested in poetry.

Lettermen Are Voted Sweaters

Second-year football lettermen who completed the first semester in good scholastic standing and who are members of the Associated Students will be awarded college sweaters, Monday's referendum election revealed.

The referendum measure passed with an overwhelming margin. Final tally showed 82 balloting for with only 8 votes against the proposal.

Gridders who dodged the constitution clause making it mandatory for students who participate in Associated Student activities, of which football is one, to own a student ticket are provided for in a special clause of the referendum. It reads:

HI-JINKS IS SET FOR MARCH 20

With every club women members invited to present a skit, plans for the annual Associated Student hi-jinks to be held in the Y. M. C. A. March 20 at 7:30 o'clock were revealed to be under way today, according to Ruth Warner, A. W. S. president. The A. W. S. perpetual loving cup will be presented to the club which gives the best program.

The hi-jinks will be a costume affair, and the costumes which are the best disguises will be selected by the judges.

The annual affair will be free to all jaycee women.

Ruth Warner is in charge of the publicity, Roberta Tuthill of refreshments, and Mary Lou McFarland of entertainment.

Don Radio Program Lacks Manager; Is Discontinued

Because of difficulty in getting someone to manage the college radio program, known as the "Don Quarter Hour", this college feature has had to be discontinued.

Should someone be interested in taking over the work, they are requested to see either Jack McCarty or Milford Carman who were formerly conducting the air program.

That the fourth annual A. A. E. show, to be held in the Willard junior high school auditorium tonight at seven forty-five o'clock, would attract a guest list of possibly four hundred persons was revealed today by George Robertson.

Robertson stated that reserved seat tickets had been sent to the senior science students of all high schools in the surrounding district, to members of the senior chapter of the A. A. E. in Long Beach, to the Long Beach junior college, the Compton junior college, and to various professional engineers.

The demonstrations to be given are: fluorescence, by Charles Roemer and Maurice Lycan; black, or infra-red light, by Loren Gillogly and Jack Reade; liquid air, by Cadet Barnes and John Ramirez; electricity, by Ralph Kennedy and Bill Graupensperger; induced current by Jack Hawkins and Sammy Tucker; short wave radio, by Chas. Blanchard, Albert Hill, and Norman Caldwell; and oscillator, by Ed Ewing and Elvin Williamson.

In this last demonstration the Oscillograph will be used. This machine that transforms sound waves into light waves and produces them upon a screen so that the different sound waves can be compared more closely.

'Smilin' Through,' Fiesta Play, To Be Given Twice

That two performances of the fiesta day play will be presented this year, was revealed today by Ernest Crozier Phillips, drama director.

Allan Langdon's Martin's play "Smilin' Through" has been chosen for presentation on May 12 and 13. The cast and presentation will be directed entirely by Mr. Phillips. The two performances will be given at the Willard junior high school auditorium.

Students who have been selected to play the leading characters in the play are Harriet Abrams, John Henderson, Art Coleman, Nelson Rogers, and Frances Hammonree. The cast is completed by Sam Gosney, Agnes Brady, Margaret Ellen Sawyer, and Ruth Warner.

Local Weather Bureau Functioning Reports Weekly

Carl Curtis, local weather man, revealed today that the junior college weather station sends weekly reports to the Pomona weather bureau. The Pomona station collects weather data from all districts in Southern California.

The bureau has been in operation since Jan. 20, 1935. Dew point and relative humidity readings are taken daily at 1 o'clock, while maximum and minimum temperatures are calculated at 4 o'clock. The highest temperature was recorded Jan. 31 when the mercury reached 86.2 degrees.

Assembly To Feature Sports

Boxing, wrestling, Japanese fencing, badminton, will be featured at the sports assembly scheduled for Wednesday in the gym. Sixth period classes will be omitted.

Down Editorial Alley

By Jack Pegues

Again dragging out the case of pacifist versus militarist, the recent College Editors-Literary Digest peace poll presents to the observer a number of interesting possibilities for speculative thought.

That only one out of eight editors, who were presented a special ballot, should feel either the inclination or necessity of voting is clearly indicative of preponderance of some sort of unvoiced, yet none-the-less definite sentiment. Any number of interesting possibilities present themselves.

The thought that disinterest might be largely responsible may be immediately banished. Mental lassitude has never been a trait of present-day college youth. Modern educational trends have made him keenly aware of his environment, and he is generally quick to respond to bona fide surveys regarding his particular philosophy.

Apprehension May Be Sentiment

However, it is also a corporate fact that your college youth of this day is of a suspicious and challenging nature. Always upmost in his mind is the realization that he is pioneering in a changing world—a world groping for something it does not yet know, but the value of which he will have to judge.

Thus when he is confronted with a questionnaire demanding a yes or no vote on issues that include such queries as "Do you believe that a national policy of 'an American air force second to none' is a sound policy of insuring us against being drawn into another war" he will, usually, hesitate before committing himself.

And when, in view of prevailing world chaos, he finds the question impossible to answer intelligently, he reveals true genius. The realist of today will face the facts of today and tomorrow. It is a fact—undeniable as it is disturbing—that a crises exists in the relations of nations. To disregard this fact either by discounting or refusing to remedy it, is to invite disaster.

Here 'n There In Radio

By Jack McCarty

'Tis rumored that during the week of Spring Vacation, music will be by Ted Fio-Rita and his musical aggregation; the place they will play is the Rendezvous Ballroom in Balboa. Although Harry Tudor, manager of the ballroom will not make a statement to that effect, it is the general opinion that Fio-Rita will be there.

Comments pro and con have been heard about Rudy Vallee's latest starring picture, "Sweet Music". The fact remains that Vallee gave a much more finished performance in his latest than he did in the "Scandals."

Did you know that—

Rush Hughes, Langendorf Pictorialist, is the grandson of Rupert Hughes, the writer.

Jack Benny and Fred Allen are really running a race of popularity for the title of best comedian on the air. They are, we understand, very good friends and rivalry is of the best. At the present, Benny is slightly in the lead as far as fan mail is concerned. The clean cut comedy that both offer is a joy to listen to.

Al Pierce has practically remodeled his gang. Many new faces and voices on this program.

David Vail, staff announcer for station KHJ, once took part in a jaycee play entitled, "Ladies of the Jury."

Ray Noble was forced by the musicians' union to organize an entire new band. The reason: too many good men out of work in Los Angeles that had paid up dues. Hence, Noble was forced to get an entire new orchestra.

TOMMY'S TATTLINS

By Francis Gilbert

Enough is enough and sometimes too much, or in other words, rebellion in the ranks of journalists; besides taking an unfair advantage of me. Because of my absence from these columns "Chit Chat" evidently thought I was defenseless so she picked on me, now I'm "muscling in" on her racket.

Be a Gentleman, Gussie

I suppose I should show some leniency toward the girl with the dark-haired man in the green Chevy because of the forth-coming nuptials and gossip is often very damaging. But wotta temptation—or am I a gentleman.

Number two

Another rebellious informer was "Squeak" Frazee. By the way, what were you doing on the night of March 1, or rather the morning of March 2, and so late in the morning, tsh, tsh, 3:30 a. m. Why didn't you STAY on the point at Balboa and watch the dredger get its breakfast?

Correction Please!

In my own defense—"Chit Chat's" publicity was appreciated only she quoted me in the wrong place, wrong time, and wrong girl. Careful "Dee", pretty soon we won't believe anything you say.

EXCHANGES

By Armand Hanson

Compton jaycee's basketball center, Carl "Buttercup" Anderson, made quite a name for himself during the past season. He finished first in individual scoring with 257 points. His nearest competitor, Guy Kilgore, made 102 points, just 155 less than the buttercup. Another interesting thing about Compton's scoring race is that in two instances two players ended the season with the same number of points. Captain Dixon and Remsen each tallied 85 points and Hank Lyman and Ed Dunbar each made 44.

Authorities at Harvard university are instituting tests to determine the origin of the famous Harvard accent. Freshmen new will be required to make phonograph records when they enroll and again when they graduate.

It doesn't appear to us as tho' this will be a true test. Those that work hard enough to graduate will not have time to acquire the accent and those that acquire the accent probably will not graduate.

Long Beach jaycee has a big league baseball player, or rather, they did have a big league baseball player enrolled at their school. Jack Salveston, New York Giant last season, left school to enter spring training with the Pittsburgh Pirates at Santa Paula.

Quincy college, Quincy, Illinois, had something to brag about. While their basketball team was taking it on the chin, six students made straight A's. For a college of their size, that is a record to be proud of.

At a recent student body election at the University of Michigan 200 more votes were cast than there were persons registered in the college.

Either some politicians are getting a head start, or the place is overflowing with school spirits.

Oval Stars Go To Long Beach Tomorrow

Spice Of Sport

By Marvin Spicer

Track ability, like royal blood and titles, runs in the family. This age is very true on the Don cinder squad. Rudy Holman, star two-miler, and Ray Craft, 880 man who negotiates that distance in 2:05, are cousins.

Al Clark, petit two-miler, is another to Duncan Clark, present Don sports scribe and former year letterman at Orange high. The latter of the Clark brothers is able to compete here because of leg injury sustained two years ago. A third Clark is now captaining the Orange ovalmen. In a recent track meet between the Saints and the Orangemen, he ran the half-mile in 2:08 for first place. Ray Craft also has a brother running at Orange who looks like future Don sporting timber.

Lindley Versatile Athlete

Numerous athletes have trekked through the sporting halls of Santa Ana jaysee but never one more versatile than Ellwood Lindley. During his athletic sojourn here Lindley participated in basketball, track, golf and tennis. In addition to these sports he was perhaps the cleverest boxer on the campus. He is also an able night ball pitcher.

In track Lindley competed in every field event except the pole vault. He high jumped around six feet, broad jumped approximately 16 feet, could throw the javelin out about 165 feet and was consistent in the shot put and discus throw.

Golf Attempts

Another former Don has answered the call of spring and pro baseball and has flown south (or rather east) with the birds. Gordon Gallet, former chucker on local baseball nines, has hit the trail for Charleston, South Carolina where he gets his chance at the big time.

Preininger First Forward

After spending most of the season on the bench and as a reserve guard, Clair Preininger, former all-around athlete, hit his stride and finished the conference schedule as first string forward of the University of Arizona's basketball quintet.

Last year when competing for the locals, Preininger was one of the casaba team's scoring threats. He had an uncanny eye for sinking one-hand shots.

Los Angeles junior college celebrated its fourth annual homecoming last Friday. Over 700 alumni were present at the gathering which took place on the campus where the graduates assembled and then were guests at various banquets and performances. A dinner dance at the Cafe de Paree climaxed the days' entertainment.

San Mateo jaysee started crew practice last week with over 40 candidates out for the sport. Last season they enjoyed a successful season and with six members of their championship crew back, they hope to repeat their performances.

Cook Trackmen To Compete In Annual Relays

Rain Causes Meet To Be Postponed Until Tomorrow

Old "Jake" Pluvius played a trick on Southland A. A. U. officials Saturday drowning out their pet relay carnival at Long Beach, but barring his return the meet will be held tomorrow on the Stephen's field oval, it was announced today by Walter Scott, Long Beach meet official.

Coach Cook is slated to enter the same fifteen men named last week which includes a medley team composed of Ray Cokeley, Ray Craft, Joe Frias and Rudy Holman, a sprint team of Major Anderson, Vernon Koepsel, Lucian Wilson, Frank Boyd and Hal Pottorf, alternate.

The track and field events find Vernon Koepsel novice "hundred", Kenneth Vandruff, novice highs and high jump, Capt. Wilson, open highs, Loren Lukens, pole vault, Walt Gunther, discus, "Jig" Kroener shot, and high jump, Al Parr and Ray Sides in the broad jump, and Hal Pottorf, javelin.

The Don cinder squad will be the only Eastern conference junior college track team in the meet because the other members of the league have dual meets. The locals have a bye in conference meets.

Coaches Call For Golf Enthusiasts

Definitely slated to appear on the spring sports calendar, devotees of golf will turn out this week to tune up the hickory sticks for what looks to be a close conference race.

According to Bill Cook, local golf mentor, the sport will definitely swing into action this week with the purchase of monthly tickets for worthy men at Willowick, Santa Ana's pay-as-you-play course.

Local divot-diggers can look forward to at least three conference matches and two more are in the fire now. These will be angled for at the next coaches meeting, Cook said. Matches will be announced next week.

Cook urges all those interested to come out. They may drop their regular gym class provided they report regularly.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN HANDBALL MATCH

Handball will be discontinued within the week unless some definite action is taken by the contestants, was the warning issued today from the P. E. department relative to El Don's second annual cement-court tourney that has been lagging the last two weeks.

Results are the same as previous with Graupensperger slated to meet the winner of the Schwarm-Warren duel while the two winners of the Baxter-Downie, Owens defeated Thompson in a mutual

Incoming Stars Brighten Court Prospects Here

Numbering three returning lettermen and several former high school stars the tennis outlook for Santa Ana jaysee is unusually bright this year.

Heading the list is Lewis Wetherell, Orange county champion who has enough medals and trophies to start a jewelry store, and three returning lettermen, Dave Styring, Orris Davis, and Jack Reade.

Former Saint Netters

Kenneth Nissely, three year letterman from Santa Ana high school, has also reported and will be a serious threat in the singles as well as the doubles, his favorite event. Harris Warren and Gordon Davis, also from Santa Ana high, have reported and will bolster an already strong outlook.

Calvin (Alabama) Flint, local instructor, will manage the team this season, it was announced today. Tentative matches have already been arranged with Compton and Santa Monica junior colleges.

Three Meets Slated For Local Natators

With three certain, and another probable aquatic fests on tap for the local mermen, Bill Cook today made public results of the coaches meet in Chaffey this week.

Fullerton, Santa Ana, San Bernardino, Riverside, and probably Chaffey will enter men in the conference swimming and diving meets. Pomona is the only school that will be unable to compete. Lack of adequate facilities for the proper development of a fair team makes them unable to compete.

Santa Ana will meet these four schools in a series of contests, the dates of which will be announced next week. Another coaches' meeting is necessary to decide the contest dates of the schools.

Meantime, Santa Ana's potential champions are working out each night in the hope of improving their form to such a degree as will render the championship gonfalon theirs.

agreement one-game match, 21-13.

All contestants are urged to post the results of their matches as soon as possible so that the meet may be finished to make room for a doubles tourney in the near future.

Wrestlers Plan To Enter A. A. U. Match In March

Swinging into their last two weeks of intensive practice prior to invading Inglewood's annual A. A. U. wrestling meets, Santa Ana's three musketeers of the squared circle today continue to prepare for the inland city conclave to be held March 28, 29, and 30.

Bob Armstrong, Charlie Gard, and Wayne Wilhite will be the three men to appear for the Dons. These men have an excellent chance of grabbing themselves some chest-decorators as they were champions of Kansas state previous to enrolling in the local jaysee, Bill Cook said.

This triumvirate is to be augmented by several high school exponents of the grunt, groan, and grimace fraternity, but at a late hour today the high school choices had not been made public.

LECK PREPARES FOR CO-ED HOCKEY DERBY

Beginning practices for the junior college hockey playday to be held in two weeks, over 20 women reported for hockey practice Tuesday.

The practices are held on the high school fields because there is no junior college field available for this season. Miss Zena Leck, hockey coach, reports that it is definitely settled that Santa Ana junior college will be represented at playday.

Practices will continue four days a week, omitting Fridays, until the contest.

Before the formation of the present team, it had been decided that Santa Ana would go unrepresented for this year in the hockey season. However, at the request of the girls themselves, practices were started to be continued only as long as full teams reported. Coach Leck reports a sufficient attendance thus far.

Lacy Honored On All-Star Outfit

Tom Lacy, sharp-shooting Don forward and one of the most consistent scorers in the recent Eastern conference casaba season, has been placed on an all-conference team recently picked by a number of Eastern conference newspapermen.

Lacy, although a member of a team that finished uncomfortably close to last place, usually played outstanding ball that warranted

First Workout Brings 15 Men To Don Roster

Three Lettermen Report Along With Many Newcomers

Despite budget cuts, lack of a playing field, and general laxity of interest in the sport, baseball struggles along in Santa Ana jaysee with 15 die-hards daily working out with the Saint diamond squad.

No practice games have been secured to date, but it is reported that the Don-Saint civil war series will soon be in the offing.

A scarcity of pitchers and an over-supply of outfielders are evident in the repertoire of diamond talent practicing on the high school field. To date six candidates have indicated their preference of the outer gardens. No chucker has reported as yet, but Fred Erdhaus, former Saint hurler, is expected to show up soon.

Outfielders Plentiful

Heading the list of outfielders are Ben Slavin, local homerun king, Clyde Birdsong, .350 hitter of last year, and Louis Madden, all lettermen. Harold Youel, who received an arm injury at mid-season last season, is another foremost candidate.

Allan Mackay and Bob Brown, reserves from last year, are other aspirants for the rural sections.

him a position on the mythical team.

Teamed with Lacy at forward is Charles Marshall of Pomona, who was runner-up in the league scoring column although playing with the cellar champs.

Fullerton's champions placed Tom Berkley, dusky star, at center and Louis Bloise at guard. Riverside had "Bud" Langley at the other guard post.

Barbara Charles Tells Of Chute Jumping

"When you first step over the side you spin rapidly and over end. As you gain speed these revolutions become slower and slower until you reach about 164 miles per hour. When the revolutions have ceased you fall as straight and as fast as a bullet.

"Let me tell you, when you get going as fast as any falling object can go, you know you're going places! When the chute opens and you are falling at this terrific rate, it gives you a jerk that rivals any chiropractic treatment you could hope to get," Miss Charles explained.

The highest jump that the local student ever made was from an altitude of approximately two miles. She compared the jolt that one receives in landing as equal to that experienced in jumping from a tree. If there are many air-pockets the descent is much swifter and the landing much harder.

Falling Sensation
"The sensation that impresses me most is not that of falling, but the uncanny stillness which one experiences while floating towards the earth way up in the sky. As you get lower and lower the sounds of the hustle and bustle of the earth below gradually become louder and louder. It is like approaching a beehive of activity from a great distance," Miss Charles said.

Besides making exhibition jumps Barbara also teaches students the gentle art of falling to the earth with a parachute.
